What is the Disability Inclusion Action Plan?

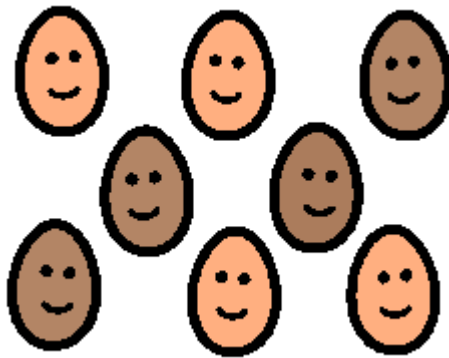

New South Wales

In New South Wales there is the *Disability Inclusion
Act (2014)*.

It is the law.

The law is about making sure people with disability
can take part and are included.

The law says that government departments
need to write a Disability Inclusion Action Plan. We
call this the Plan.

Hard words

This Plan has some hard words.

The first time we write a hard word.

- The word is in blue
- We will write what the hard word means

We have a Disability Inclusion Action Plan.

We call it a plan.

The plan goes from 2017 – 2021.

The plan is to give more opportunities to people with a disability.

Opportunities are when you get the chance to do something.

The community gave us feedback to help make the plan.

Feedback is when you tell us
what you think.

You told us we do some things well.

For example:

- Airport service.
- The library staff.

You told us there are things
we can do better.

For example:

- More disability parking.
- Better bus shelters.
- Adult change tables.

There are 4 areas in the plan.

- Attitudes and behaviour

Make the community better for people with disability.

- Liveable communities

Make it easier to join in activities and events.

- Employment

Make more opportunities to get work.

- Systems and processes

Make it easier to get information and go to places
There is work to do in each area.

Our commitment to inclusion

For AlburyCity:

- We aim to be inclusive and accessible.

Inclusive is where everyone is welcome. Accessible is where something is able to be entered or reached.

- We want to be an employer of choice.

For businesses:

- We want businesses to be accessible.
- More people can go to a business if it is accessible.

With this plan, across the next 4 years, we aim to:

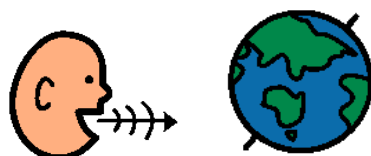

- Improve access to buildings.
 - have universal access .

Universal access is the ability for everyone to enter a building easily.

- make access easy.

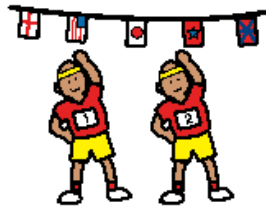

- Improve the way we recruit and manage staff.
- Give people the chance to learn and do better at work.

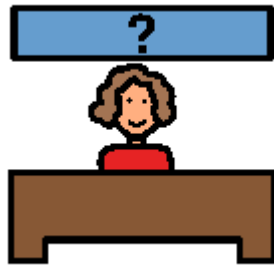

- Raise awareness about disability – for staff and the community.

- Review and address parking issues.

- Ensure events and programs are accessible and inclusive.

- Improve information and communication processes.

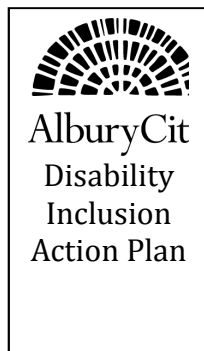

Feedback

To make this plan:

- We listened to our staff members
- We listened to you

We will check the plan each year.
